

Korean Folk Village

Korean Folk Village is home to numerous collections of Korean cultural artifacts, providing an opportunity for Korean children to experience and learn the culture of their ancestors firsthand. It is located 20 miles south of Seoul, near Suwon and stands on 243 acres. The site provides a venue to promote traditional Korean culture to both domestic and international visitors, and provides an open-air learning place for succeeding generations. The village has been developed to convey the wisdom and the spirits of our ancestors to both domestic and international tourists.

They have the residence of "Yangban" (a famous nobleman), and farmhouses from each local province of Korea. Additionally, you will find an authentic recreation of traditional village life, featuring a jail, blacksmith's shop, pottery shop and an open-air market selling souvenirs and handicrafts. It will be pretty addicting to watch how Korean artisans made their wares then sold them at the store front. Also, you will be able to appreciate the tastes of the traditional foods and wine, and watch the production processes of tools, utensils, and other implements at the various workshops. Korean artisans live in the village as weavers, basket-makers, calligraphers, fortune-tellers and costume-makers. At an open-air theater, you are able to watch a traditional performance a 30 minute rendition of a farmer's dance. They also have performances of old-style weddings and kite shows
